Dear Amazing Year 6,

The time has come for you to show the world what we already know, that you are all wonderful, talented, and capable young people. As you prepare for your SATs, we want to take a moment to look back at how far you have come.

Think back to the beginning of Year 6, or even all the way back to when you started school. Look at the challenges you have overcome, the new things you have learned, and the resilience you have shown, especially over the past few years. You have worked your socks off, and we are incredibly proud of every single one of you.

It is natural to feel a bit nervous about next week, but remember that these tests are just a way of showing what you have learned, not a reflection of your worth. SATs only measure a tiny part of your brilliance. They don't test your creativity, your kindness, your ability to make others smile, or your skill in sports, music, or art.

There are many ways to be smart, and you are all smart in your own special ways.

Here is your plan for success:

- Believe in yourself: You are fully prepared to smash it.
- Do your best: That is all anyone can ask, and your best is absolutely enough.
- Rest: Get plenty of sleep and eat well so your brain is ready to go.

Next week, just go in with your lucky mascot (if you want one) and do what you can do. You have already proven how fantastic you are.

Believe in yourselves because we certainly believe in you!

With pride,

The Year 6 Team
